Federal Plea For Port Fund Will Continue

Harbor Is Considered Among Projects Most Worthy

Despite reports that PWA could not assist the project at this time to the extent of $66,000, the Redwood City port project will not be abandoned, harbor boosters agreed Tuesday, with the Council Harbor Committee planning to pursue its campaign.

An appeal has already been forwarded to United States Senators William Gibbs McAdoo and Hiram Johnson; to George Creel, close friend of President Roosevelt and the administration, and to Congressmen John J. McGrath, San Mateo county; Richard Welch, San Francisco; Florence Kahn, San Francisco; Maurice Harrison, San Francisco Democrat leader, and others.

The Council Harbor Committee, of which William Vielhauer, editor of The Tribune, is secretary, has also contacted the War Department with a view to determining the status of the $94,000 dredging appeal.

SEEK ABANDONED FUNDS

McAdoo, through his secretary, Miss Vera Ward; Johnson, Creel, Harrison and Welch have all pledged their full support to the project. Creel's support was sought just a few days ago by W. H. Morrissey, Redwood City attorney and Democratic leader, in an urgent appeal to find the funds.

The city's appeal is directed at locating some allocated funds on projects which have not been carried through. It was pointed out that not yet half of the $4,800,000,000 public works fund has been expended.

Or the project will be submitted for consideration in the $2,000,000,000 public works program now contemplated by President Roosevelt.

PORT PROJECTS FAVORED

The Redwood City harbor project is considered to have a real bid for attention because of its proximity to the Sunnyvale air station and its importance from a military standpoint.

The fact that the project is for a harbor, also places it in a far more favorable light than other public benefits.

If the $94,000 is granted plus about $100,000 for outer bay dredging, but no other federal aid is secured, Redwood City will have the choice of proceeding with the port plan now, or delaying it for some years with the chance that the Port Alviso project might proceed in the meantime.

This afternoon a negative Sequoia team, accompanied by Miss Alberta Reibenstein of the faculty, in charge of debate activitives, was to meet a Santa Cruz high school team at Santa Cruz. The local debaters were Byrne Pike and Alfred Glathe.

Both debates were league contests.

It could not be learned for what purpose the property was bought. Russell is believed to be a relative of the Atherton family.

COUNTY-WIDE UTILITY PLAN WINS SUPPORT

Menlo Park Chamber To Back Proposal Of Supervisor

Support to the plan proposed Monday at the board of supervisors meeting for a county-wide water and power utility district was promised today by John H. Sullivan, president of the Menlo Park Chamber of Commerce and chairman of the Public Relations section of the Hetch Hetchy water promotion committee.

Sullivan disclosed that a fact finding committee of engineers had reached an unofficial conclusion that purchase of all Hetch Hetchy water under a plan proposed by San Francisco would raise water rates on the peninsula over those now in existence for well water.

As a result, Sullivan expects the proposal that the peninsula increase its water consumption enough to take advantage of a 12-cent per 100 cubic feet wholesale offer from San Francisco to be dropped when the committee of engineers, of which City Manager-Engineer Charles Dimmitt of Redwood City is a member, reports.

"The county-district seems to me to be the logical proposal," Sullivan asserted, "and I believe the entire membership of the chamber will favor it. I am calling a meeting of the chamber for next week.

"We have tried for years to work through water districts. We have several in the county now under county control. But they overlap and are interwoven with private companies and each other, and are not entirely satisfactory.

"Through one county district we could save money and own our own water system in time. Profits could be used to build badly needed buildings such as a courthouse.

"We have found out that water districts can't give us water cheap enough to satisfy industries.

"If we are going to compete with the east bay or Los Angeles, we must have adequate water and power at reasonable rates. The county district is the only solution."

4 Palo Altans Die in Flames In Auto Crash

Vehicle Hits Culvert On Pacheco Route And Takes Fire

(Special to The Tribune)

PALO ALTO, March 9—Trapped in their blazing automobile, three Palo Alto residents were burned to death, a fourth incurred burns from which he died later, and a fifth was injured critically when their car hit a bridge abutment on the Pacheco Pass highway near Los Banos last night.

The dead:

Carl Elo, 49, carpenter.

Aate Lehto, 29, apprentice carpenter.

Harold Poykky, 23, carpenter's helper.

Mary Poykky, 19, his sister.

In the Los Banos Hospital with burns expected to cause her death is the fifth occupant of the ill-fated car in which the group were returning to their home in an apartment house at 115 Everett avenue. She is Eldora Anderson, 19.

The three men were employed by Andrew Aro, Palo Alto contractor, building houses. They had been living here about six months. They formerly resided at Reedley, and had left Saturday evening to spend the week-end there with relatives, according to John Laine, proprietor of the apartment house.

Dispatches from Los Banos reported the speeding machine crashed into a bridge near an old adobe service station, turned over, and instantly became a mass of flames.

Elo, Poykky and his sister died in the car when rescuers were unable to extricate them. Lehto succumbed an hour later.

Miss Poykky and Miss Anderson were employed in San Mateo as house maids, according to Laine.

A sixth member of the group living at the Everett avenue address, Mrs. Anna Hakanen, sister of Elo, did not make the trip to the valley. She left today, however, to return Elo's body to Palo Alto for burial.

The others likely will be interred at Reedley.

Stockton was chosen 1937 convention city.

R. W. Robinson of Long Beach was re-elected vice president, and David H. Ryan of San Francisco was named secretary, succeeding Bert Ward, San Jose building contractor.

JAMES PLANS SUPERVISOR CANDIDACY

Engineer Will Oppose High Who Helped Ouster Move

Reports heard with recurring frequency that James S. James was seriously considering becoming a candidate for county supervisor at the coming August primaries were confirmed by James Monday.

The former county engineer who was removed from office a year ago January 16 would campaign against Supervisor Walter High of Burlingame if he definitely decides to toss his hat into the ring.

"Whether or not I will run will depend a great deal on who else is in the field," James said. "However, I certainly am giving the matter considerable thought."

Supervisor High, although elected only two years ago, must run again this year because he failed to qualprescribed time, according to a rulify by filing his bond within the ing of Atty. Gen. U. S. Webb. Supervisor Fred Beer of the San Carlos-Belmont-San Mateo district is in the same category. As a result, all five supervisorial posts will be filled this year.

Since County Manager Walter T. Kellogg, with approval of Supervisors Manuel Francis, Albert Witt and High, removed James from the position to which he had been elected four years previously, the engineer has been engaged in private practice except for the few months he was county WPA manager. He resigned that post nearly two months ago "in disgust" with administration of works relief.

James has engineering offices in Redwood City and Burlingame. He lives in the latter city at Valdeflores and La Mesa drive.

One other Burlingame resident who is considering entering the supervisorial race against Supervisor High is Mayor C. A. Buck, chairman of the county planning commission.

From the coastside, as the political situation now stands, will be three candidates: Incumbent Francis, Dr. C. V. Thompson of Pescadero, former board chairman defeated at the last election, and Alvin Hatch, lumberman and former chairman of the planning commission. Neither Thompson nor Hatch has definitely announced himself, but each has told friends there is little doubt of his candidacy.

From the north end in opposition to Supervisor Witt are expected to be Mayor Hugh H. Smith of Daly City and Thomas Hickey of South San Francisco, also a former supervisor.

Whether Supervisor Beer will have any competition is questionable. No definite reports have linked anyone to the campaign from that section.

Supervisor Poole already has Col. J. Arthur Peterson announced against him. Mayor Charles Lambert, Matthew Harris and Henry Beeger, all of whom have been mentioned as possible candidates, have denied any such intentions.

While candidates must live in districts from which they run, they are elected in the county at large. Salary of supervisors is $1800 per year, plus mileage and expenses.

Three of the supervisors will be elected for four-year terms. They are from the first district, now represented by Witt; the third township, represented by Poole, and the fourth, represented by Francis. The other two positions will be for only two years.

G-MAN SEEKS ALVIN KARPIS ON PENINSULA

Man Who Looked Like No. 1 Public Enemy Is Reported Seen

A department of justice agent was on the peninsula Monday checking up on a tip that "a man who looked like Alvin Karpis," the nation's No. 1 public enemy, had been seen here, according to an Associated Press dispatch from San Francisco.

Customary secrecy surrounded the "G-man's" activities and the justice officials refused to disclose the agent's identity nor where the tip originated.

They did say, however, that someone had told them he thought he had seen Karpis in San Mateo county. Their investigation was a routine affair, they said. It was considered possible Karpis might have passed through this county en route to the Santa Cruz mountains where he is believed to have familiar haunts and might attempt to hide out.

Cycle Crash Blamed On Leaky Water Pipe

(Special to The Tribune)

SAN MATEO, March 9.—A motorcycle accident in San Mateo early today was attributed to a leaking water pipe which caused a depression in El Camino Real opposite Mills Hospital.

Wallace Jucherts, 23, post office employe, was sent spinning when his motorcycle hit the depression. City engineering officials said by noon the depression was nearly 8 inches deep.

Fixing of Store Hours Is Sought In Canvass Here

Determination to make a canvas of all retail stores to bring about new store hours of 9 a.m. to 6 p.m., including Saturdays, was decided Monday at a meeting of the Retail Division of the chamber of commerce presided over by W. D. Ryan, chairman.

The canvas will attempt only to reach those merchants in the department store, dry goods, shoe, jewelry, hardware, clothing and kindred lines. It will not in any way be concerned with the food or drug business.

It was pointed out by those in favor of the movement that the stores now close on Saturday nights in all other towns on the peninsula and that staying open works a hardship on employees and causes shoppers to postpone buying until evening when the most efficient service cannot be rendered.

The canvas will be made immediately by merchants under the direction of Roscoe Wyatt, secretary of the chamber.

Frederick G. Musso, druggist, stated that he would contact druggists with the idea of cooperating in the movement to curtail the drug store hours also.

Those present at the meeting were: Charles Nelson, James P. Hearne, John D. Slack, Simpson Reinhard, Thomas Joaquin, Harold Meyer, Ryan, H. E. Ogden, Musso and Wyatt.

8-Lane Subway At South S. F. Ready Thursday

SOUTH SAN FRANCISCO, Mar. 10.—Four additional lanes in the highway underpass at South San Francisco will be opened to traffic Thursday, according to the South San Francisco Chamber of Commerce.

The new highway structure, which will provide for separate north and south bound traffic lanes, will be dedicated with appropriate ceremonies.

The $200,000 structure, originally advocated in 1933 by the chamber of commerce and other civic organizations, has been under construction since May 6, and was financed by the state through its federal road apportionment.

The new structure doubles the roadway in the Bayshore highway underpass and provides for eight lanes of traffic. The original structure completed in 1927 was the largest of its kind in California at the time. The new addition, which supports eight railroad tracks, again places the highway structure here at the front rank in point of size it is declared.

COUNTY DEBATES WATER AND POWER ACQUISITIONS

Federal Financing to Bring Cheap Power to Peninsula Foreseen By Colma Supervisor

Proposals that the county of San Mateo go into both the water and electric distribution businesses were advanced Monday by Supervisor Albert J. Witt Jr., Colma, the water issue coming before the board of supervisors, and the power plan being revealed during adjournment.

Both utilities would rely upon Hetch Hetchy for the sources of their water and power supply.

Hetchy Hetchy power would be taken off a peninsula line from which San Francisco will take its power at Newark across the lower bay.

Hetch Hetchy water would be taken off the main peninsula line and would be distributed from a pipeline to be installed along El Camino Real.

MAY COMPETE

Witt indicated that the plans for the electric utility would be advanced with the idea of setting up a competing line against the Pacific Gas and Electric Company if that firm is unwilling to sell at the right price.

"What is going to stop us from setting up a competing line if we have to," he said, pointing out that the P. G. and E. has no franchise.

Witt has been attempting to correct this condition by directing County Executive Walter Kellogg to consolidate all lighting districts and applying a franchise tax against the utility. This plan met with legal difficulties.

FEDERAL AID SOUGHT

Witt proposes to secure federal funds for the power line construction. He said he had conferred in Washington with federal authorities and learned that funds for this purpose were available.

One suggestion called to Witt's attention was that cheaper electricity for the farm areas on the coastside could be secured through financing by the Rural Electrification Administration, of which former City Manager E. A. Rolison of Redwood City is now an officer.

Witt would buy both the power and the water from San Francisco, which city has been directed by Secretary of the Interior Harold Ickes to distribute its own power under terms of the Raker act.

MUST ENTER BUSINESS

At present, San Francisco sells its Hetch Hetchy power output at Newark to the P. G. and E. for $2,000,000, and the utility resells to San Franciscans at considerable profit. Ickes has ordered this procedure terminated. San Francisco, as a result, is expected soon to enter the power distribution business.

Cities of the peninsula, including Redwood City if it goes through with its electric utility acquisition, and San Mateo, Burlingame and Hillsborough, which are also taking similar steps, would become customers of the county, as Witt sees it.

MARSHALL FAMILIAR

County Engineer Urban Marshall, Witt pointed out, is familiar with power utilities, having put Roseville into the power business many years ago for $15,000, Witt said.

Marshall reported that since that time Roseville has had lower rates and has paid off many debts for improvements.

Witt expected that support would be had for his proposals from San Francisco as the peninsula is the only potential customer which San Francisco has for both its water and power.

Witt's county-wide water district proposal was submitted by the board to County Engineer Marshall to be worked out. The motion, put by Witt, was seconded by Supervisor John Poole, Redwood City.

STUDIED SOME TIME

The electric proposal was revealed to the members of the press by Witt immediately on adjournment, and did not come up before the board.

Witt said he had been working on the plan for seven months and had the proposal sufficiently analyzed to reveal it at this time.

The water utility question came up when the East Palo Alto Water District asked permission to add two additional 2-inch intake meters on the present Hetch Hetchy line.

The board granted the application, but directed that Engineer Marshall ask San Francisco to strike out the $4.85 monthly meter service rental now charged.

Possibility of a franchise tax for the Pacific Gas and Electric Company in Burlingame will be up for consideration tonight when company officials and the city council meet in a session similar to one held recently in San Mateo. Both San Mateo and Burlingame city officials have expressed themselves in favor of the company's paying such a tax.

Attorney James of San Francisco, who resided for some time near Mayfield, recently purchased the Baroni ranch near Portola on which he is soon to erect a swanky home. The holding consists of 2000 acres of beautifully wooded land, fitted for grazing purposes. The property was a portion of the old Martinez Spanish grant given to Maximo Martinez by the Mexican governor of California, Juan Alvaredo. After the death of Martinez, the vast grant, including all of Portola and a part of Woodside, was distributed to his children. A daughter, Mrs. Baroni, was awarded a vast tract along the banks of the Los Trancos creek in Santa Clara county. The property has had many owners since the death of Mrs. Baroni. Mrs. Baroni was a winsome belle and in the days of her youth annual festivals were held at her hacienda near the banks of the Los Trancos stream.

The Republican party has but one candidate within its ranks that can defeat President Roosevelt at the November election and that man is Senator Borah of Idaho. Borah is an able, seasoned and honest statesman, a courageous and fearless citizen who knows what is needed in this country to bring back prosperity and happiness to the people.

He will be the Moses of the Republicans to lead back the party to the White House and to power. The United States is in a state of chaos—Borah will be the one to straighten out the tangled mess. If the leaders of the party are wise they will make him their standard bearer. It would be futile to nominate anyone else.

Bids Are Sought On Pedro Sector Of Coast Road

Failing in their move to get the state to advance money as a sponsor's contribution to build the Ocean Shore Highway with federal funds, county officials today were working out new plans to bring early construction of the entire coast road.

State highway commission members explained to a delegation headed by Engineer U. S. Marshall and Supervisors Manuel Francis and Albert Witt Jr. that the $300,000 allocated to the Pedro mountain sector of the shore road was from federal funds and consequently could not be used to match other federal money.

However, the local men learned, the state plans to advertise for bids within a week for the coast project, with the expectation that work can be started within the next two months.

Supervisor Witt said today, however, he believed an additional $4,500,000 in federal moneys soon would be alloted to the state for road work, and that if the funds are forthcoming an attempt will be made to get part of them for other units of the coast highway. Conferences, with Dr. L. J. Hewes, regional director of the U. S. Bureau of Public Roads, are planned to work out means of getting a portion of the money for this county, according to County Engineer Marshall.

Hoover Talk Planned Before County Bar

SAN MATEO, March 9.—Former President Herbert Hoover will be the speaker at the next meeting of the San Mateo County Bar Association, to be held late this month at the Benjamin Franklin Hotel, according to J. E. McCurdy, bar president. Date of the meeting will suit Mr. Hoover's convenience.

On March 20 the county bar will meet at Stanford in joint session with the Santa Clara county group.

After East Texas farmers for years had regarded the "partridge pea" as a harmful weed, Cliff Wells, Franklin county farmer, used it for hay with success and is planning to harvest again.

RECORDS OF ARMY TELL SELZ BIRTH

Three Enlistments and World Travels Revealed

Army records show Jerome von Braun Selz was born in 1908, the son of "Anna J. Selz of Oxnard, Calif."

It was in 1925 that he enlisted at Vancouver, Wash., barracks and later "bought" his way out without completing the term of his enlistment.

In 1929 a youth listed as "Ralph J. Selz" and said to be the same person joined the infantry in San Francisco and again "bought" his discharge. Mrs. Anna Sells, Oxnard school principal located by the United Press, claimed that the local confessed murderer could not be her son because his name was Ralph.

Selz is uncommunicative about his past life, other than to speak in generalities.

Books have been found in Stockton with his name engraved, but about his school life there Selz says nothing.

He tells of attending the Olympic Games in Holland in 1928, "doing free lance work for magazines."

"I had no passport and they kicked me out. I went to Belgium and from there I was kicked out to Germany. I was kicked around most of Europe."

He also travelled extensively in South America. In his effects was found a letter of introduction to Sandino, Nicaraguan bandit.

After his second army experience, Selz reinlisted in April, 1931, in the army air corps and was transferred to March Field, Riverside, and later to Randolph Field, Tex. He deserted in September, 1931, later was captured, and sentenced to a year at hard labor at Fort Winfield Scott. Selz claims he served on Alcatraz.

In 1930 Selz registered at Oregon State College, made a poor scholastic record, and later appeared at Oregon State Normal at Monmouth. He was expelled for poor grades.

Selz then lived in San Diego and Los Angeles, coming to the bay region about two years ago, working for Standard Stations in Oakland, San Mateo and Woodside.

After first aid treatment he was taken to the Middlefield Road Hospital.

BOW FOR EVENING

An enormous velvet bow worn on the left shoulder is used to trim a graceful satin evening gown, which Heather Angel favors. The gown is made of marine blue with a square neckline front and back, and narrow shoulder straps of marine blue velvet. The bow is of crimson.

Joan Andrews' MENU OF THE WEEK

When it's economy, versatility and health value you're looking for in a vegetable, let your old friend the cabbage help you out. While I would be the last one to decry the worthiness of plain, boiled cabbage (particularly when coupled with corned beef) I do think that too few people realize how many delicious dishes may be made with cabbage as a base. Here, for instance, is a sour cabbage recipe that is unusual and very tasty. It goes particularly well with pork. The following menu is built around the sour cabbage:

Raw carrot salad
Roast pork Sour cabbage Sweet potatoes
Bread custard pudding

Here is the sour cabbage recipe: Chop fine two apples and one onion. Melt two tablespoons of butter in a frying pan and add the apples and onion. Add one-half of a medium sized head of cabbage which has been shredded. Add two cups of water a little at a time to keep the mixture steaming. Cook for twenty minutes. When the cabbage is tender add one-third cup of brown sugar, one-half cup of vinegar, salt and pepper and a tablespoon of butter.

Raw carrots are excellent shredded and combined with apples or grated pineapple and served with either French dressing or mayonnaise.

For a really luscious bread custard, cut two or three slices of stale bread into small pieces and place them in a buttered baking dish. Make a custard mixture of two eggs, two cups of milk, sugar to taste, a little salt, some nutmeg, cinnamon and vanilla. Add raisins if you like. Pour this over the bread and bake the pudding in a slow oven. Serve it with cream, either whipped or plain.

BOARD SPLITS ON INVITING FIESTA GROUP

Witt Says Conference With Directorate Not Necessary

Over the protest of Supervisor Albert Witt Jr., Colma, who said he would not sit in conference with a limited group, the board of supervisors Monday invited the fiesta directors to confer here Friday night at 8 o'clock on the handling of the second annual show.

Witt voted an emphatic "no" when the invitation received a 3-1 endorsement. Chairman Manuel Francis, Half Moon Bay, who has been ill with a bronchial disorder for four days, was absent.

Supervisor Walter High, Burlingame, put the invitation, and Supervisor John Poole, Redwood City, seconded it. Acting Chairman Fred Beer, San Carlos, voted with them.

SEES DEFY TO BOARD

Witt based his unwillingness to invite the directorate on the fact that they were elected last Tuesday by fiesta leaders, although, he said, they knew of an opinion from Fred W. Links, deputy chief of state division of budgets and accounts, that the fiesta must be county controlled.

"What can be proposed of this meeting," Witt asked, holding that the opinion from Links "settles the argument."

Acting Chairman Beer suggested that the purpose was to "iron out" any difficulties.

Supervisor Walter High, Burlingame, who put the motion extending the invitation, suggested that the financial statement offered might be one of the subjects to be discussed.

"There has been a lot of talk about politics," Witt said, "and I don't want to get caught in any trap."

He insisted that the invitation be broadened to include agricultural groups and gardeners' associations, as well as interested citizens, but was not supported.

The financial report disclosed cash receipts of $26,492.39, and disbursements of $24,914.15, with a balance of $1,758.24. The county was found to have participated financially to the extent of $9,536.95.

Supervisor High demanded an itemized statement, which County Executive Walter Kellogg was directed to have prepared.

WAGE SCALE FIXED; OTHER BOARD MATTERS

The board approved payment of prevailing wages for all crafts on county projects after a committee of labor leaders, including J. F. Cambiano and Edward Brady, conferred on the wages.

County Engineer Urban Marshall was authorized to buy a Model 2 Northwest crawler shovel a dragline attachment, and a 3-4 cubic yard dragline bucket, all at a cost of $8,679, and to be paid at the rate of $723.25 per month like rent.

Petition of 49 Butano property owners for repair of a 1 1-2 mile stretch of road leading to the Butano property was referred to Marshall. Twenty three property owners informed the board that they are opposed to the removal of a locked gate barring entrance to the public.

The board fixed $10 as the salary to be paid polling officials and $10 as rental for polling places.

An order annexing territory to the Menlo Park Sanitary District was adopted.

JOINT CHAMBER MEETING CALLED

Drake's Belt Railway Proposal Subject Of Discussion

SAN MATEO, March 9.—Chambers of commerce directors of all county cities will be invited to meet here March 20 to discuss promotion of rapid transit and Fred H. Drake's belt line bayshore railway suggestion.

The meeting was called by the local chamber after endorsing Drake's proposal, which he asserted is necessary to fast transportation and industrial development in this county and which would help solve the grade crossing problem by lessening hazards. The road would use the proposed Western Pacific right-of-way.

REMOVAL OF TREES SEEN

(Special to The Tribune)

BURLINGAME, March 9.—Removal of dangerous trees along Easton drive and El Camino Real will probably be ordered as the result of an inspection of this district by city officials and property owners yesterday morning. Mayor C. A. Buck said the request of a citizens' committee that tall eucalypti considered not stable be removed would very likely receive favorable consideration at the board's next meeting a week from tonight.

JEFFERSON PUPILS PLANT 7 TREES

Recitations and Music Honor Arbor Day At School

Children of Jefferson school on Wednesday presented to parents and friends a belated Arbor Day program of recitations and music commemorating planting on the school grounds of seven redwood trees and an oleander donated to the school by G. B. Casaretto.

The program, arranged by Principal Homer Spellenberg with the assistance of Miss Martha Tinker and Miss Gertrude Gibson, was held in the unoccupied kindergarten room of the building. It was followed by an outside tree-planting ceremony.

As the trees were placed in the ground by the boys of the Jefferson School Hobby Club, the fifth and sixth grade children recited in unison a poem, "The Tree We Plant," after which the children of the school filed past the trees, each child placing a little soil in the prepared planting pits.

The program, announced by Elmer Nelson, follows:

"Welcome Sweet Springtime," song, Glee Club, accompanied by Miss Tinker; "Awakening," poem, Kyoko Oshima; "The Wind," poem, Terry Cowman; "The Black Crow," poem, Bobby Lampard; song, "In the Park," first and second grade chorus; "My Playmate," poem, Junior Mirande; "A March Surprise," poem, Dora Mae Farr.

"We Love the Trees," poem, Adolf Alloro, Barbara Handley, Mary Ullrich, Billy Carney, and Jack Oettinger; "Trees," an original story by Jacklyn Palm; song, "Trees," sixth grade chorus; "The Little Seed," poem, Doris Kiel; "Catkin," poem, Tomiko Kasai; "The Tree," poem, Everett Scott; "The Poplar Tree," story, Phyllis Clark; Accordion selections, Eugene Serveau.

Famed Author Visits With Local Couple

Freeman Tilden, author and economist who spoke last week before the Commonwealth Club in San Francisco, was a visitor for two weeks with Mr. and Mrs. Winfred Moebus at their home at Placitas avenue and Oak drive.

Tilden has now left to return to his home at Warner, New Hampshire.

He is the author of "The World in Debt," a book which will be published shortly in New York. This subject was the same presented by Tilden to the Commonwealth Club. He spoke from a background gained in recent investigations of financial conditions in England, France, Germany, Spain and the United States.

Creation of vast public debts is an invitation to an eventual swindle of the creditors," he said.

"The danger of the vast debt lies," he said, "in the fact that credit has become so involved in hocus-pocus that neither the borrower nor the lender appreciates the fact that debt is not in itself an increase of wealth, but a pure speculation based on the hope of creation of wealth."

In 1900 the buggy manufacturing industry was a billion dollar business.

Hart and Weeden Terms to Expire At Menlo Park

(Special to The Tribune)

MENLO PARK, March 11.—Selection of officers to preside at the coming municipal elections was completed by the Menlo Park City Council in a brief meeting here last night. The district's six voting precincts will be consolidated into one polling place at the city hall and the polls will be open from 6 o'clock in the morning of April 14 until 7 at night.

The election board will consist of Mrs. Adah Rogers, inspector; Harry B. Walsh, judge; Mrs. Zilpha L. Morris, clerk; Mrs. Jessie A. Snover, clerk; Mrs. Geneva Rogers, clerk.

Wages for the election workers proved to be a source of argument. They were fixed at $6 after Mayor J. E. Cooper had held out for $7.50 without avail.

Offices to be filled at the April 14 poll include those of Councilmen E. H. Hart and W. H. Weeden, City Clerk Fannie Kurtz and Treasurer William Ryan.

Councilman Irving Dunn, chairman of the Menlo Recreation Commission reported that the organization's recent fashion revue netted upwards of $130 which will be devoted to playground equipment in the Menlo Park-Atherton area.

A temporary license to operate the Pastime pool hall was granted to Thomas M. Ryan on the approval of Councilman Henry Carroll, commissioner of police.

Moose Expecting 250 at Initiation Here Next Week

Final plans have been made for the fourth anniversary initiation to be held Tuesday, March 17, at the Foresters' Hall by the Redwood City Lodge No. 1112 of the Loyal Order of Moose, according to R. H. Parker, local publicity director.

Women of the Moose will be honored guests at the affair. About 250 members and their wives are expected to attend, coming from lodges in San Francisco, Oakland, San Jose, Hollister, Salinas, Monterey and Santa Cruz, according to Parker.

The degree teams from Salinas and Santa Cruz will be in charge of initiating the incoming class.

One of the principal speakers will be Robert Patterson, associate justice of the supreme forum of the order.

A banquet and dance will conclude the evening's program.

The initiation is Redwood City's part in the nation-wide campaign for 75,000 new members before the Chicago convention this summer.

Accepted deed at a cost of $104 to a small parcel of Belle Haven property on which city water wells are situated.
